

Milford's Own Melting Pot

Milford has always welcomed immigrants from all over the world. Over the last 150 years, larger populations of immigrants from Ireland, Italy, Armenia, Portugal, Brazil, Ecuador, and Egypt have called Milford home. This reading list for adult readers is a mere sample of the books about and by those originally from these countries. Some speak to their home country's history and culture, and some speak to the challenges of making a home in a new part of the world.
